

Henry

Henry was referred to us by his speech pathologist when she was unable to achieve improvement because of his crossbite and underdeveloped jaw. When we first met 6 year old Henry it was difficult to understand his speech and he was being teased at school. Using a rapid expansion process and bite pads we were able to unlock his cross bit and allow space for his tongue to correctly form words. Two months after starting treatment Henry's speech had significantly improved as so had his confidence. He will still need orthopedic - orthodontic treatment to address the jaw underdevelopment when he is older but this very early intervention was important for his growth and development.
